(From an outsider's perspective...) I think the crisis & lack of resources has resulted in more creative solutions to urbanism, migration, art, heritage, etc. In Athens, GR. i.e what can we do when the funds aren't available, we shouldn't just give up during a crisis.

I'd suggest a further discussion to differentiate between Administration and Political System? I got the point, but this needs a more detailed account!! Felipe

Do you mean that corruption at the Spanish political system dismantles the mediator capacity of Public Administration? Felipe

Isn't it better for heritage if less houses are built? Even if that means that less archaeologists have work in the rescue excavation sector? Sophie
